

ANTITRUST PRACTICE

INTELLIGENCE THAT WORKS

Berkeley Research Group, LLC (BRG) is a global consulting firm that helps leading organizations advance in three key areas: disputes and investigations, corporate finance, and performance improvement and advisory. Headquartered in California with offices around the world, we are an integrated group of experts, industry leaders, academics, data scientists, and professionals working across borders and disciplines. We harness our collective expertise to deliver the inspired insights and practical strategies our clients need to stay ahead of what's next.

BRG professionals provide to counsel, corporations, and governments throughout the world independent and objective testimony in matters involving antitrust litigation, mergers and acquisitions, and agency competition reviews. BRG experts combine a deep understanding of actual market behavior with relevant economic theory and sound empirical research. They have provided testimony and made presentations concerning antitrust issues in both state and federal courts and in meetings and hearings before the Federal Trade Commission (FTC), US Department of Justice (DOJ), European Commission, and other tribunals; and before sector-specific regulators.

SELECTED EXPERTS

David Teece, PhD | Executive Chairman | San Francisco Bay Area

Dr. Teece is an authority on industrial organization, technological change, and innovation, particularly as it relates to antitrust and competition policy. He has authored more than 200 books and articles and is the professor in Global Business and director of the Tusher Initiative for the Management of Intellectual Capital at UC Berkeley's Haas School of Business. In 2020, he was ranked as the world's most-cited scholar in the combined field of business and management in an analysis of science-wide author citations published in PLOS Biology, a peer-reviewed journal. The same year, he was named to the Thinkers50 Hall of Fame.

Robin Cantor, PhD | Managing Director | Washington, DC

Dr. Cantor is an economist with more than thirty years of experience in environmental, health, energy, antitrust, and applied economics, as well as risk management, product liability exposures, and insurance claims analysis. She focuses on economics at the interface of science and technology. She lectures for the graduate part-time engineering program at Johns Hopkins University and has been qualified in federal court as an expert on economic damages and claims analysis.

David M. Eisenstadt, PhD | Managing Director | Washington, DC

Dr. Eisenstadt is a nationally known economic expert in the fields of antitrust and industrial organization and has developed particular consulting and testimony expertise in the antitrust and industrial organization analysis of healthcare markets. He has more than forty years of experience, including university teaching and employment as a senior economist at the DOJ Antitrust Division.

Greg Harman | Managing Director | Johannesburg, South Africa/London

Mr. Harman is an expert in the areas of valuation, dispute consulting, pricing, competition finance, and economic regulation. During his more than twenty-five years in consultancy, he has undertaken a wide range of assignments in the United Kingdom and internationally. He has significant experience working on cases in telecommunications, media, energy, post, water, and transport.

E. Allen Jacobs, PhD | Managing Director | Dallas, Texas

Dr. Jacobs has testified as an expert on economic and financial issues in federal and state courts and before federal regulatory boards. He has been certified as an expert by federal courts in antitrust, economics, economic damages, and finance. His testifying assignments have included estimation of damages, antitrust analyses, corporate valuations, evaluation of financial structures, valuation of financial instruments, and evaluation of class certification for securities litigation.

Henry Kahwaty, PhD | Managing Director | Washington, DC/London

Dr. Kahwaty has analyzed numerous mergers, horizontal and vertical contractual arrangements, and monopolization claims in the context of government investigations and private litigation. He has studied price fixing allegations, class certification, and damages issues. He was previously an economist with the DOJ and has testified at European Commission and FTC hearings.

David Kaplan | Executive Director | Washington, DC

Mr. Kaplan is an expert in antitrust economics, including issues related to alleged price fixing and monopolization. He has analyzed economic issues concerning possible class certification in numerous antitrust matters. He also specializes in analyzing damage claims in antitrust and other areas. He has published in the field of antitrust economics and has taught at George Mason University and in the MBA program at Johns Hopkins University.

James Langenfeld, PhD | Managing Director | Washington, DC

Dr. Langenfeld provides economic analyses and expert testimony for litigation, regulatory actions, and economic policy. This work involves types of matters including antitrust, damages, class actions, labor, mergers, statistical analyses, and the impact of regulation on firms and consumers. He serves on the editorial board of several professional journals and has published numerous articles in journals and books on diverse topics in applied economics and econometrics.

Dante Quaglione, PhD | Managing Director | London

Dr. Quaglione has worked as an economist and strategist for over twenty-five years, primarily as a senior expert with leading global economic and strategy consulting companies. His expertise spans the entire realm of applied economics, including private antitrust litigation (e.g., card schemes, heavy duty detergents, Forex manipulation).

Daniel Ryan | Managing Director | London

Mr. Ryan over twenty years of experience in valuing businesses, shares, and intellectual property assets in both contentious and non-contentious matters, including sale and purchase transactions, shareholder and post-acquisition disputes, intellectual property licensing, infringement of intellectual property rights, fiscal valuation, and transfer pricing.

Cleve B. Tyler, PhD | Managing Director | Washington, DC

Dr. Tyler specializes in applying economic analyses to antitrust, intellectual property, and damages issues. He has testified at deposition and trial in federal court, in state court, and at arbitration. Dr. Tyler is an adjunct professor of economics in Johns Hopkins University's applied economics program and has published articles on damages and competition issues.

Frederick R. Warren-Boulton, PhD | Managing Director | Washington, DC

Dr. Warren-Boulton is an internationally recognized economics expert in the fields of antitrust and industrial organization, particularly in the economics of vertical restraints, mergers, price fixing, exclusion, and monopolization, and has testified and published extensively on those issues. He previously was chief economist and deputy assistant attorney general for Economic Analysis at the DOJ Antitrust Division.

Michael Williams, PhD | Managing Director | San Francisco Bay Area

Dr. Williams specializes in analyses involving antitrust, industrial organization, and regulation. He has been retained as an economic consultant by the DOJ Antitrust Division, the US Federal Trade Commission, and the Canadian Competition Bureau. Previously, Dr. Williams was an economist with the DOJ Antitrust Division.

About BRG

Berkeley Research Group (BRG) is a global consulting firm that helps leading organizations advance in three key areas: disputes and investigations, corporate finance, and performance improvement and advisory. Headquartered in California with offices around the world, we are an integrated group of experts, industry leaders, academics, data scientists, and professionals working across borders and disciplines. We harness our collective expertise to deliver the inspired insights and practical strategies our clients need to stay ahead of what's next. Visit thinkbrg.com/contact.html to find out how we can unlock potential for your business.

THINKBRG.COM