

Cyber and Ransomware Claims

BRG's Business Insurance Claims practice provides world-class forensic accounting and insurance claim preparation services to policyholders, commercial insurance brokers, and law firms.

We prepare credible, professional, and well-documented claims per the terms of the insurance policies that help lead to timely settlements. While our professionals establish loss-accounting procedures, analyze accounting records, and develop detailed claim models, our clients can focus on restoring their systems and operations, communicating with customers, and running their businesses.

Our deep claims and industry experience enables us to provide strategic advice and manage expectations throughout the claims process. Our experts have testified in depositions, trials, and arbitrations; served as umpires and appraisers; and facilitated successful settlements at mediations.

We have prepared cyber and ransomware claims around the world totaling billions of dollars
